

Annual Conference in Health System in Kosovo INVITATION

TO: UEHP Members

Dear,

We are pleased to invite you to the annual Conference of the Association of Private Hospitals of Kosovo, which will be held on December 11, 2024, at Emerald Hotel, starting at 10:00.

The Association of Private Hospitals of Kosovo is an organization founded in 2022 by 32 Private Hospitals of Kosovo, as an independent organization.

ASPKS is an independent organization that protects and presents the professional interests of its members, ensures the high standards of the code of ethics and medical ones, promotes and protects the activity of private hospitals and health professionals in private health institutions, provides continuous professional education and is committed to providing the highest quality health services and other services related to hospital health care.

As an organization, this year we have the honor to invite the President of the European Union of Private Hospitals (UEHP), General Secretary of UEHP as well as UEHP members from European countries, representing the Private Health Sector, who will discuss with all participants about experiences in Europe in the Health field. The participation of UEHP would be very helpful as well would give to the audience and professional exchange of experiences in Health Industry. The annual conference of ASPKS is organized by inviting all local and central actors who support the improvement and policy-making in the development of health in Kosovo, therefore your participation in this conference is very important for us.

Dear Sir/Madam,

Through this invitation, we would like to invite you to participate, considering it important for Health in Kosovo and the support of the Private Health Sector, which will be held during the day according to the agenda attached to this invitation. At the same time, the participation for the first time of the European Union of Private Hospitals and the dialogue between experiences in the field of health will be a very good opportunity to create future cooperation and development of policies in the field of Health.

Please confirm your participation at aspkosova@gmail.com no longer than November 27, 2024.

Yours Sincerely,

Z. Armend Agani,

Chairman of the Board

Asociacioni i Spitaleve Private të Kosovës (ASPKS)
